Futures Plans

- Anna: We are finishing secondary school next month. How do you feel?
- Ben: I feel excited but also nervous. Everything is changing.
- Chris: Yes, our final exams start next week. After that, we are graduating!
- Anna: So, what are you going to do after graduation?
- Ben: I am going to study engineering at a university in Chiang Mai. I already applied, and I will get the result next month.
- Chris: That's great! Why do you choose engineering?
- Ben: I like math and science. My father works as an engineer, and he often tells me about his job. It sounds interesting.
- Anna: That's nice. Are you going to live in Chiang Mai?
- Ben: Yes, I am going to stay in a student dormitory. I will learn to live by myself.
- Chris: You will be very independent!
- Anna: What about you, Chris?
- Chris: I am not going to university this year. I am taking a gap year.
- Ben: Really? What are you going to do?
- Chris: I am going to work in my aunt's café. She needs help, and I want to save money. I will study business next year.
- Anna: That's a good plan. You will get work experience first.
- Chris: Yes, and I am also taking an online English course. The course starts in July.
- Ben: That sounds busy!
- Chris: It is, but I think it will help me in the future. What are you going to do, Anna?
- Anna: I am going to study art and design at a college in Bangkok.
- Ben: Wow! Are you moving there?
- Anna: Yes, I am moving in June. My cousin lives there, so I am going to stay with her at first.
- Chris: What do you want to be in the future?
- Anna: I want to be a graphic designer. I love drawing, and I enjoy creating new ideas.
- Ben: You are very creative. You will be a great designer.
- Anna: Thank you! I know it will be difficult, but I will work hard.
- Chris: We all have different plans, but we are following our dreams.
- Ben: Yes. Even if we study in different places, we will keep in touch.
- Anna: Of course! Our friendship will stay strong.
- Chris: I agree. Our future starts now!

Teen Talk: Your Space for Support

Welcome to Teen Talk, our weekly advice column where we tackle the issues that matter most to you. From school stress to friendship drama, we're here to help you navigate the ups and downs of being a teenager.

Exam Stress

Tom_16 asks: Next week, I have important final exams at school. I feel very nervous and I can't sleep at night. I study every day, but I'm afraid of failing. My parents want me to get good marks, and I don't want to let them down. What should I do?

Advice: This is a common problem for students. First, try to stay calm and maintain a positive attitude. Make a simple study plan and take short breaks. Don't study all night because you need to rest. You ought to talk to your parents about how you feel; they likely care more about your well-being than a grade. Remember, exams are important, but they are not everything. Don't give up!

Problems with Friends

Anna_15 asks: Last month, I had an argument with my best friend. Now she doesn't talk to me at school. I feel miserable and lonely. I miss her, but I don't know how to say sorry. What can I do?

Advice: Friendship problems can be very stressful. You should try to talk to her in person rather than over text. Be honest and explain your feelings. Sometimes it is important to say sorry first, even if it feels difficult. If she needs time, you must be patient. Good friends often find a way to fix their problems once the air is cleared.

Too Much Homework

David_14 asks: Every day, I have lots of homework. I also have football practice three times a week. I feel tired and stressed, and I don't have time to relax. My parents say school is my priority. How can I manage everything?

Advice: You need to organize your time carefully. Make a timetable for homework and practice, and try to do the most important tasks first to avoid a "backlog." If you feel too overwhelmed, you could talk to your teacher or coach about your workload. It is vital to have some free time to relax so you don't burn out. Try not to worry too much.

Feeling Different

Sara_17 asks: I feel different from other students at my school. They like parties and social media, but I prefer reading and drawing. Sometimes they laugh at me. I feel anxious and not confident. What should I do?

Advice: Many teenagers feel this way, but you should be proud of your interests. Everyone is different, and that is what makes you unique! Try to find friends who like the same activities as you by joining a school club or an art group. Remember, you don't have to change who you are to fit in. True confidence comes from being yourself.

11. Why doesn't Tom sleep well at night?

- a) Because he watches TV all night.
- b) Because he is nervous about his exams.
- c) Because he argues with his coach.
- d) Because he plays football late.

12. What should Tom do before his exams?

- a) He should study all night.
- b) He should make a simple study plan.
- c) He shouldn't study at all.
- d) He should quit school.

13. Anna feels miserable and lonely. What should she do?

- a) She should talk to her friend and be honest.
- b) She should ignore her friend.
- c) She shouldn't say anything.
- d) She should change schools.

14. Why doesn't Anna talk to her best friend now?

- a) Because they had an argument.
- b) Because she moved to another city.
- c) Because she is too busy.
- d) Because she is on holiday.

15. David has too much homework. What shouldn't he do?
