

Conditionals: Homework Practice

Quick Reference Guide

Reminder of the structures:

- Zero: Facts & Habits (If + Present, Present)
- First: Real possibilities in the future (If + Present, Will/Can)

1. Zero & First Conditional: Cause and Effect

Match the condition on the left with the most logical result on the right. These focus on facts (Zero) and real possibilities (First).

Write the letter of the correct result in the center column.

Condition (If...)	Match	Result
1. If you heat water to 100°C,		A. I will stay home and read.
2. If I miss the bus to work,		B. I will call you immediately.
3. If it rains this weekend,		C. it boils.
4. If I get the promotion,		D. I will take a taxi.
5. If I find your keys,		E. I will buy a new car.

2. Zero and First Conditional: Facts and Possibilities

Choose the correct verb form for these facts (Zero Conditional) and future possibilities (First Conditional).

6. I usually start my day with a routine. If I _____ coffee in the morning, I feel much more awake.

a) drink

b) drank

c) will drink

7. The traffic in the city is terrible today. If we don't leave now, we _____ late.

a) would be

b) were

c) will be

8. It is a scientific fact. If you _____ water to 0°C, it turns into ice.

a) freeze

b) froze

c) will freeze

9. Ask your boss. If she _____ yes, we will start the project tomorrow.

a) says

b) said

c) say

10. I am looking for a new job. If I _____ a good position, I will apply immediately.

a) find

b) found

c) would find

3. Real-Life Situations: Zero and First Conditionals 🏠

Look at the images and scenarios. Write a logical sentence using either the Zero Conditional (for general truths or habits) or the First Conditional (for specific future possibilities).

11. First Conditional: Think about your plans for tomorrow.

If it rains tomorrow, I...

.....

.....

.....

.....

.....

.....

.....

.....

.....

.....

12. Zero Conditional: Write about a general fact or habit.

If you don't water plants, ...

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

4. Creative Application 🖋️

Answer the following questions about your own life. Pay attention to which conditional is required (Zero or First).

13. Zero Conditional (Facts & Habits):

Think about your daily routine. What happens if you drink a lot of coffee late at night?

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

14. First Conditional (Real Plans):

Think about next weekend. What will you do if the weather is good?

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

Four horizontal dashed lines for writing.