Read the following passage and choose the correct answer to each of the questions.

It is estimated that about 40 percent of the world's population use social media, and many of these billions of users look up to influencers and ask them for help in deciding what to buy and which trends to follow.

An influencer is a person who can change the choices of their followers because they know a lot about a topic and have a good relationship with their audience. Influencers usually have many followers who listen to their opinions. They can make people buy things, and many companies now see influencers as a way to reach customers. Brands are now asking powerful influencers to market their products. Some influencers earn up to $25,000 for one post on social media, so it's no surprise that more and more people are keen to become influencers.

If you want to be an influencer, here are some tips for you. First, choose your topic. What do you know most about? What do you like talking about the most? Second, pick the platform you want to use. Many influencers today are bloggers or micro-bloggers. Choose if you want to have a blog, use Instagram, or maybe Snapchat, to connect with your followers. Third, post often and stay consistent. The more you post, the more people will follow you. Also, make sure your posts follow a theme. Most importantly, be patient. Keep posting and your followers will slowly grow.
