Hi, Sam!

How's everything? I'm just writing to let you know that we're all OK after yesterday's avalanche.

As you know, I was on a skiing trip with my family yesterday. At noon, we were having lunch at a restaurant when, suddenly, we saw a lot of snow sliding down the mountain. It was everywhere! We all sat under a big table and waited for the avalanche to stop.

When the avalanche stopped, we carefully went outside. The good thing is that everybody in the restaurant was OK. Things finally calmed down and we waited for a while until we were sure it was safe to leave. I don't like avalanches at all!

Write and let me know how you are.

Kevin
