CASE FILE: THE VANISHING CHEF

SCORE 05 POINTS (0.5 pts each)

Instructions: Read each statement regarding the grammar used in the Julian case. Circle T (True) or F (False).

1. In the sentence "Julian was cooking when the lights went out," we use Past Continuous for an action that was interrupted by a shorter event.
T / F
2. The structure "Julian had been working for 12 hours" is an example of Past Perfect Simple.
T / F
3. In the phrase "The man had left before the police arrived," the man's departure happened after the police got there.
T / F
4. We use Past Continuous (e.g., "It was raining") to describe the background atmosphere or "setting the scene" of a story.
T / F
5. In the sentence "Julian had never broken a rule," we use Past Perfect to talk about a life experience that happened before the night of the crime.
T / F
6. In the sentence "While we were examining the floor, we found a key," the Past Simple (found) represents the longer, ongoing action.
T / F
7. The Past Perfect Continuous (had been planning) is used to emphasize the duration or "how long" an action had been happening before a point in the past.
T / F
8. "The owner opened the safe" uses Past Simple because it is a completed, specific action in the sequence of the story.
T / F
9. The difference between "he had worked" and "he had been working" is that the second one puts more focus on the process and effort.
T / F
10. If we say "Julian was disappearing when we arrived," it means he was already gone and the kitchen was empty.
T / F
