

LISTENING COMPREHENSION: The Youngest Grocer In America (CBS News)

<https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=IKyOLzpGEU4&t=161s>

Watch the video, and decide if the following statements are True (T) or False (F).

1. Nick Graham works in a supermarket owned by another person.
2. Customers think Nick behaves like he owns the shop.
3. Nick had a lot of experience shopping before buying the store.
4. He saved money by working on his uncle's farm.
5. The grocery store cost less than $10,000.
6. Nick bought the store mainly to become rich.
7. The town had no grocery store before Nick bought it.
8. Nick lives with his parents.
9. At first, his grandmother did not support his decision.
10. Many people in the town support Nick and his shop.
11. Some people in the community help by working in the shop for free.
12. People prefer to shop in other towns instead of Nick's store.
13. The shop gives the community hope and confidence.
14. Nick wants to open more grocery stores in other towns.
15. Nick gives his grandmother free groceries.

TRANSCRIPT:

[Music] Mar did you find everything okay he puts in hours like he owns the place okay he's always here I don't know when he goes to school treats customers like he owns the place he sacks everything up and he takes it to my car mostly because he owns the place people really appreciate that and that'll keep my customers coming back can I talk to you later this isn't a real good time 17-year-old Nick Graham just bought the main Market in Truman Minnesota he may be the youngest Grocer in America when you first bought the place did you know how to run a grocery store no I have to tell you the truth I've never went grocery shopping before Nick saved the money mostly from working around his uncle's Turkey Farm the down payment on the grocery store was more than $10,000 money that could have gone towards a college tuition could have gotten him out of here this Community has been struggling for the past um past few years it's kind of been in a downward spiral and I I didn't want to see that continue so when the town's only grocery store closed earlier this year Nick felt his calling I'm here hopefully to make a profit but I'm I'm not here for that in and of itself I'm here because this community needs me to be here and maybe he needs them right back Nick's dad died when he was four and his mom has since moved out of the State he now lives with his grandma Dorothy I was not for it right away and finally I decided just let him go I was worried for him but turned out fine and the town was so behind him once he got going they're all coming today just about everyone in town is irregular shopping out of town would be heresy some people even volunteer stocking the shelves it gives the whole Community a sense of confidence it lets Truman know that Truman is going to stay here it is a time when people realize that to succeed we all have to work together hope it's what's on special this week at the Main Street Market in Truman Minnesota and last thing can we have just a little sample of your DNA so we can clone you no I'm serious and and we're one of you in every little town in America so just a little sample of hair or something like that yeah is that okay yeah that'd be fine okay his next goal is to try to find Truman a pharmacist and to graduate of course he's so dear he really is a HomeTown hero isn't he he's a great kid but he's a businessman too he makes his his grandma pay full price for groceries good for him that's funny