English Proficiency Test TRIVIA - Listening

Listen For Who and What in Passives

It is sometimes difficult to understand who or what is doing the action in a passive sentence. If the dialogue contains a passive statement, the answer to the question is often an active statement. If the dialogue contains an active statement, the answer to the question is often a passive statement. This problem is often tested in the short dialogues.

On the recording, you hear:

- | | |
|------------|---|
| (man) | Did Sally go to the bank this morning? |
| (woman) | Yes, she did. She got a new checking account. |
| (narrator) | What does the woman imply? |

In your test book or on the computer screen, you read:

- (A) Sally wrote several checks.
- (B) Sally wanted to check up on the bank.
- (C) A new checking account was opened.
- (D) Sally checked on the balance in her account.

In this dialogue, the woman uses the active statement She got a new checking account, which means that Sally opened a checking account. The correct answer uses the passive structure that a new checking account was opened to express the same idea. Therefore, the best answer to the question above is answer (C).

Task 1

In this task each of the correct answers is either a passive restatement of an active sentence or an active restatement of a passive sentence. Read each short dialogue and underline the key active or passive statement. Then read the question and choose the best
