

Sentences:

- A. He had prepared everything carefully the night before and was feeling very confident.
- B. his dog suddenly stole one of his shoes and ran out of the house.
- C. he had chased the dog around the neighborhood for nearly ten minutes.
- D. he realized he had worn his shirt inside out.
- E. he accidentally walked into the wrong room and introduced himself to strangers.
- F. he had practiced all the interview questions many times before.
- G. his phone suddenly rang loudly in the middle of the interview.
- H. it was playing a silly “Baby Shark” song.
- I. his chair suddenly broke and he fell onto the floor.
- J. he had made too many embarrassing mistakes that day.

TOM’S FUNNY JOB HUNTING

Tom was laughing while he was telling his friend James about the most embarrassing job-hunting day, he had ever experienced. (1) _____. That morning started well. While he was getting ready, everything seemed perfect. However, just as he was about to leave the house, (2) _____. Because of that, he was already late since (3) _____. When he finally arrived at the company, he tried to calm himself down. But as soon as he looked at his reflection, (4) _____. He quickly tried to fix it, but while he was doing that, (5) _____. The people in the room were confused, and Tom suddenly realized he was in the wrong place. After finding the correct room, he sat down and the interview began. At first, he felt a bit better because (6) _____. However, things quickly went wrong again. While he was answering a question, (7) _____. At that exact moment, (8) _____. The interviewer looked at him, trying not to laugh, while Tom was nervously apologizing. Then, as Tom sat down again, something even worse happened. (9) _____. After the interview, Tom walked home feeling hopeless because (10) _____. However, the next day, he received a phone call that completely surprised him—the company offered him the job.