3. You are going to be watching a scene from Don't Blink episode of The Tenth Dr. Who. You'll see Sally, Larry, Dr. Who and Martha Jones (Dr.'s companion).

A. Watch the first time and answer the questions:

What year is the Doctor talking from?

Who has taken "the blue box"?

What is "the blue box"?

B. Are the statements true (T) or false (F)? Watch again and check your ideas, mark the statements

1. Martha Jones is working in a shop now and has to support the Dr.
2. People assume that time is a strict progression of cause to effect.
3. Larry has never seen this recording with the Dr. before.
4. Weeping Angels look exactly like people.
5. Sally and Larry have to send TARDIS to Dr. Who.
6. To resist Weeping Angels people have to blink as often as possible.

4. Listen to the clip from the scene and fill the gaps _____

Sally: What do you mean "Angels"? You mean those _____ things?

The Doctor: Creatures from another _____.

Sally: But they're just statues.

The Doctor: Only when you see them.

Sally: What does that mean?

The Doctor: Lonely Assassins, they _____ to be called. No one quite knows where they came from, but they're as old as the Universe, or very nearly, and they have _____ this long because they have the most perfect defence system ever evolved. They're quantum locked. They don't exist when they're _____ observed. The moment they are seen by any other living creature, they _____ into rock. No choice, it's a fact of their biology. In the sight of any living thing they literally _____ to stone. And you can't kill a stone. 'Course, a stone can't kill you either, but then you turn your head away. Then you blink, and oh yes it can!

Sally: [to Larry, referring to a nearby Angel] Don't take your eyes off that.

The Doctor: That's why they cover their eyes. They're not _____, they can't risk looking at each other. Their greatest asset is their greatest curse. They can never be seen. Loneliest creatures in the Universe. And I'm sorry. I am very, very sorry, it's up to you now.

Sally: What am I supposed to do?

The Doctor: The blue box; it's my time machine. There is a world of time energy in there that they _____ feast on forever, but the damage they would do could switch off the sun. You have got to send it back to me.

Sally: How? How?!
