Warm up

Match the questions and answers that people use when they meet.

Part A

- | | |
|------------------------|------------------------------|
| 1. What's your name? | a. I'm from France. |
| 2. How old are you? | b. I'm fine, thanks. |
| 3. Where are you from? | c. I'm twenty-two. |
| 4. How are you? | d. My name is Marie Bernard. |

Part B

- | | |
|---------------------------------------|-----------------------------------|
| 1. Are you here on holiday? | a. Yes, I'm here with my family. |
| 2. Are you studying here? | b. No thanks, I have some water. |
| 3. How long are you staying here? | c. For ten days. |
| 4. Would you like something to drink? | d. Yes, I'm on an English course. |

Now read the sentences out loud in pairs.

Listening

Part A: Marie is in her English class. She meets another student. Listen to the conversation and number the questions in the order you hear them.

- ___ Where are you from?
- ___ How are you?
- ___ What's your name?
- ___ Would you like something to drink?
- ___ How long are you staying here?

Part B: Listen again and choose the correct information.

1. Luis is from France / Spain.
2. Marie lives in Paris / London.
3. Luis is staying for six weeks / months.
4. Marie is staying for one week / month.
5. The teacher says that class starts in ten / five minutes.
6. Marie and Luis decide to get something to eat / drink.

Language point

Study the sentences below.

Marie: Hi, how are you? / Luis: I'm fine.

Luis: Is he the teacher? / Marie: Yes, he is .

We use to be verbs in sentences with nouns and adjectives. This verb is irregular.

Study the tables below. Then choose the best answers to the questions.

	long form	contraction (short form)	longform	contraction (short form)
	singular		plural
1st person	I am →	I'm	we are →	we're
2nd person	you are →	you're	you are →	you're
3rd person	he / she / it is →	he's / she's / it's	they are →	they're

yes-no questions	Am I late? / Are you late? / Is she late?	Are we late? / Are they late?
short answers - positive	Yes, I am. / Yes, you are. / Yes, she is.	Yes, we are. / Yes, they are.
short answers - negative	No, I'm not. / No, you're not. / No, he's not.	No, we're not. / No, they're not.
	No, you aren't. / No, he isn't.	No, we aren't. / No, they aren't.

We use contractions (short forms) when we speak in informal situations.

Choose the best answer.

1. When we write the first person singular, we use a capital letter I / lower-case letter i.
2. We use different / the same forms of to be with we, you and they.
3. We use / don't use an apostrophe (') to make the short forms (contractions).
4. We use / don't use contractions in short positive answers.
5. We use the same / a different word order in questions and sentences.
6. There is one way / are two ways to make negative short answers with contractions.

Now, practise saying these sentences.

- I'm fine. You're fine. He's fine.
- We're fine. They're fine.
- I'm a student. You're a student. She's a student.
- We're students. They're students.

Practice

Part A: Write a form of to be in the gaps to complete these sentences.

1. He _____ the teacher.
2. I _____ not from London.
3. They _____ students.
4. _____ you from Poland?
5. They _____ not late.
6. I _____ from Japan.
7. _____ we late?
8. She _____ here on holiday.

Part B: Answer the following questions.

1. Which sentences can have contractions?
2. Write those sentences again, with contractions. For one sentence, you can write two forms.
3. Write positive and negative answers to questions 4 and 7. Write two forms if you can.

Speaking

Lisa and Ricardo are in London. They start talking in the street. Work in A/B pairs. Complete your part of the conversation and then speak together. Use contractions where you can.

Then complete the other part of the conversation and check with your partner.

Read the conversation again as a different person.

A - Ricardo

Transcripts

2. Listening

Marie: Hi, how are you?

Luis: I'm fine. And you?

Marie: I'm fine, thanks. ... My name is Marie. What's your name?

Luis: I'm Luis. Nice to meet you.

Marie: Nice to meet you too. Where are you from?

Luis: I'm from Spain. And you?

Marie: I'm from France. I live in Paris. How long are you staying here?

Luis: For six weeks. What about you?

Marie: For one month.

Teacher: Hi everyone! The class starts in ten minutes.

Luis: Is he the teacher?

Marie: Yes, he is. Would you like something to drink before class?

Luis: Yes, I'd like a coffee.

Key

1. Warm up

5 mins.

Call attention to the header image which shows people meeting and set the context. Work with the whole class to match the questions and answers in both parts of the exercise. Drill the pronunciation and then ask students to practise reading the sentences in pairs. If they are able to, they can use their own personal information to answer the questions.

Part A

1. → d. 2. → c. 3. → a. 4. → b.

Part B

1. → a. 2. → d. 3. → c. 4. → b.

2. Listening

10 mins.

Part A

Call attention to the introduction to set the context and then go over the instructions for the first listening task. Play the dialogue and check answers with the class. For the second listening task, students can work in pairs to read through the sentences and try to remember the missing information. Play the recording a second time for them to check.

How are you?

What's your name?

Where are you from?

How long are you staying here?

Would you like something to drink?

Part B

1. Spain 2. Paris 3. weeks 4. month 5. ten 6. drink

3. Language point

10 mins.

Have students focus on the sentences, explanation and table. It may be helpful to use students' L1, if your class is monolingual, to explain irregular and the grammar terms used in the table. Go through the questions one by one, nominating a different student to answer each question, to clarify the rules of this extremely important grammar point. Students at this level often omit the to be verb from sentences or omit the subject.

Note: the two forms for negative short answers are used interchangeably in British English. American English speakers prefer the forms with not (you're not, etc). However, both forms will be understood in both varieties of English.

Then explain the use of contractions, which are used in virtually all informal speech, and drill the sentences with the class.

- | | | |
|-----------------------|----------------|-----------------|
| 1. a capital letter I | 2. the same | 3. use |
| 4. don't use | 5. a different | 6. are two ways |

4. Practice

10 mins.

Part A

Do the first sentence as an example with the whole class - use long forms (not contractions) for the gap fill. Students work alone and then check answers in pairs, before going over the answers with the whole class. NOTE: If students are finding this difficult, skip the speaking stage and do the extra practice/homework exercises in class for additional support.

1. is 2. am 3. are 4. Are 5. are 6. am 7. Are 8. is

Part B:

1) 1, 2, 3, 5, 6, 8,;

2) He's the teacher. I'm not from London. They're students. They're not late. / They aren't late. I'm from Japan. She's here on holiday.

3) Yes, I am. No, I'm not. Yes, we are. No, we're not. / No, we aren't.

5. Speaking

13 mins.

In this stage, students will activate the vocabulary and grammar from the lesson in a speaking activity with two stages. Go over the instructions for the first stage of the activity. Set up A/B pairs and give students a few minutes to work alone to complete the missing information in their side of the table. Monitor and support students as necessary; encourage students to look back at the worksheet for support if they need to.

After a few minutes, ask students to stop and try the roleplay in pairs. In the second stage, students work alone to write the missing words from the other role before repeating the roleplay. Finally, go over the roleplay with the whole class to check answers. Correct and drill any mistakes you hear. If there is any extra time, students could try the role play using their own personal information or their imagination.

Answers:

1. name
2. meet
3. Are
4. 're
5. long
6. you
7. 're
8. from
9. aren't
10. 'm
11. is
12. 'm
13. like
14. Yes

6. Extra practice/homework

2 mins to explain.

These exercises can be assigned for homework or used instead of the speaking activity if the class needs more support. If you use these for homework, make sure that you mark the exercises in a future class, or collect them from students and mark them yourself outside class. If you prefer, you can make the answers available to students and they can check their own answers.

- | | |
|------------------------------------|---------------------------|
| 1. He is from England. | 2. They're at the hotel. |
| 3. Are you from China? | 4. Yes, we are. |
| 5. No, we aren't. / No, we're not. | 6. I'm twenty-three. |
| 7. I'm fine, thanks. | 8. She/he is the teacher. |

7. Optional extension

10 mins.

These exercises are designed as a cooler activity if you have time in your lesson. In this activity, students can add five more social expressions and responses to their vocabulary. They can work in pairs to match the two expressions and then check answers with the class, drilling pronunciation. Pose the follow-up questions as a check on understanding. Then students could test each other on the expressions.

Part A:

1. → b.
2. → c.
3. → a.
4. → d.
5. → e.

Part B

starting to talk to someone - How was your weekend? /Sorry, I'm a bit late; ending a conversation - Have a nice weekend./ I have to go now.
