

The owl and the octopus

One bright morning, Oliver the owl went on an adventure. He flew over trees and rivers to the blue sea. Suddenly, the Owl saw an Octopus!

“Hello!” said Oliver.

“Hello! I’m Olivia,” said the octopus, with waving her arms.

“You live in water, and I live in trees,” said Oliver.

Olivia replied “Yes”, “but we can still be friends!”

They played and had fun together. At sunset, Oliver flew home happy because he had a new friend.
