

A day trip

I just got back from a fun trip to NY. I had a great time and saw a lot of amazing things. I also went on a day trip while I was there. My co-worker, Laura, invited me to visit her hometown, Cold Spring, a small town on the river, north of the city. I haven't been to many places in the U.S., and it sounded nice. So, I decided to go there for the day.

We traveled to Cold Spring by train. The trip took a little over an hour, but the ride was nice and relaxing. The train went along the Hudson River, and the views were lovely. I was excited to explore somewhere new. We walked along the sparkling river and around the town. It was so charming! There were interesting shops and a large farmer's market with fresh fruits and vegetables.

We bought lunch at a local bakery and ate our sandwiches by the river. We watched the small boats go by, and I felt so calm. Then we went shopping, and I bought a beautiful book about flowers. We weren't able to do everything we wanted before we had to leave. But we had a great day, and I was happy to visit a new place.

Comment

About
RSS Feed
Social Media
Recent Posts
Archives
Email

C Read the post again. Complete the chart.

Who went on the trip?
Alba and her co-worker

Where did they go?

How did they get there?

Why did they go?

What did they do there?

Other details