

EL TECLADO

LLEVA CADA NOMBRE DE LA TECLA AL LUGAR CORRESPONDIENTE Y RECUERDA PARA QUE SE USABA.

The diagram shows a standard computer keyboard layout. Five red arrows point from empty rectangular boxes to specific keys: one to the Esc key, one to the F12 key, one to the Enter key, one to the Spacebar, and one to the right Shift key. To the right of the keyboard are five orange buttons with the following labels: ENTER, BORRADOR, BLOQ NUM, BLOQ MAYUS, and ESPACIADOR.
