CEID

QUIZ 2 15TH CYCLE

GRAMMAR

1 Complete the sentences with have to, don't have to, must, must not, should, or shouldn't.

Example: We'll have to leave early tomorrow morning.

1 You _____ really drink coffee in here, but I'll let you do it just for today.
2 Where do you think we _____ stay in New York – in Manhattan or Brooklyn?
3 You _____ pay to park here after 7 p.m. – it's free.
4 We'll _____ leave early tomorrow if we want to get back before it gets dark.
5 It's a wonderful movie. You really _____ go and see it.
6 You _____ drive on the right in Europe (except the UK).
7 Do we _____ bring our dictionaries to the lesson?
8 It's a holiday tomorrow, so we _____ go to school.
9 You _____ swim in the ocean here. There was a shark attack last week.
10 We usually _____ stand up on the bus because there are no seats.

2 Complete the sentences with the correct form of can, could, or be able to.

Example: We were so hungry we couldn't wait for dinner, so we ordered pizza.

1 I've lived in France for a year, so I _____ understand a lot of French now.
2 She opened her birthday present the day before. She _____ wait!
3 We aren't busy tonight, so we'll _____ come and help if you want.
4 I've never _____write well, but my sister has beautiful handwriting.
5 We _____ come to the wedding because we'll be on vacation.
6 My brother _____ play the piano since he was four!
7 I _____ swim when I was very young because we lived near the ocean.
8 Would you like _____ play the guitar in a band?
9 I _____ read this note without my glasses. What does it say?
10 _____ you lend me your dictionary, please?

VOCABULARY

3 Complete the missing word in each sentence.

Example: I'm busy right now. Please can I call you back* in 10 minutes?

1 I'm just sw_____ through my photos to find a video I want to show you.
2 Nora's phone w_____ off in the theater and the man next to us was upset.
3 Hi, Marta. Sorry, we were c_____ off. My train went into a tunnel.
4 I'm trying to talk to my phone company, but they've put me on h_____.
5 I'm t_____ Faraz about tonight. What time can we meet him?
6 I don't think she h_____ up. I think she lost reception.
7 I'm trying to call my parents, but the line's b_____.
8 Hello. Yes, I left a m_____ for my doctor last week, but I haven't heard back.
9 The r_____ on Zack's phone is really annoying. He should change it.
10 I don't use v_____ for messages. I normally send a text instead.

LIVEWORKSHEETS

CEID

4 Choose from the pairs of adjectives to complete the sentences.

embarrassed / embarrassing bored / boring frightened / frightening tired / tiring depressed / depressing

Example: The game was really boring. There weren't any goals.

1 It looked interesting, but that's possibly the most _____ book I've ever read.
2 Ana was so _____ when she tried to get into the wrong hotel room!
3 I don't understand why traveling is so _____ – you're sitting most of the time!
4 Katie's very _____ at the moment. She just lost her job, and her cat just died.
5 We were so _____ when the window suddenly opened during the night.
6 You must be _____. You've been working for ten hours!
7 I was really _____ last night because there was nothing to do.
8 It was very _____when my phone rang in the movie theater.
9 It's _____ that so many young people are out of work.
10 That horror movie was really _____! My eyes were closed half the time!

LIVEWORKSHEETS

READING

1 Read the article and check (✓) A, B, or C.

It really annoys me when people claim smartphones are a bad thing. Can't they remember what life was like without them? Did we live in a "golden age" where families had polite conversations and played happily in green fields? No! We did the exact same things as we do now. I loved an old board game called Hero Quest; now I love World of Warcraft — it's the same fun! We talked to our friends on landlines for hours and filled our heads with information from magazines and newspapers. The behavior is the same, but today we do it with fewer devices and much, much less paper. And don't get me started on photos. Not so very long ago, people had to take photos using analog cameras. You couldn't even see the pictures for days because you had to pay someone to develop them for you. And then we stored them in photo albums that were so big most people couldn't lift them.

So, I am a fan of the smartphone. But the biggest fans of all are the people of India. The Indian smartphone market grew by 18% in 2016 — that's a faster increase than anywhere else in the world. Internet access using cell phones is 80% in India, again the world's highest, with Indonesia in second place at 73%. Compare that to the UK where more than half of Internet connection is via desktop computers.

Interestingly, many people in India choose to buy simpler 4G phones instead of smartphones. In part, that's because of poor reception in rural areas. But this has led to a very competitive market, with Indian companies going head to head with larger Chinese phone producers. Data charges actually went down by 20% last year! Phone companies are opening new stores all over India because, unlike Chinese shoppers, most Indians choose to buy their phones using cash in stores rather than online.

So smartphones can keep us connected, but could they also keep us healthy? A recent report found that mHealth could save one billion dollars each year in India alone. The idea of "mHealth" is simple — it means the use of cell (or "mobile") phone initiatives in health care. And it's easy to see the possibilities. An app could tell people in cities if the pollution in the air is good or bad. Patients who live outside towns and cities won't have to travel miles to find expert medical advice. Instead, doctors will be able to see many more patients by using mobile health data and video chats. People already carry their music, photos, and bank details on their phone. It makes sense that all our health data should be there, too.

So, the next time someone tells you cell phones are dangerous, or rude, or turning young people into zombies, tell them they should think again.

Example: Some people say life before smartphones was a "golden age."
A True ☑ B False ☐ C Doesn't say ☐

1 The author doesn't think smartphones have changed people's behavior.
A True ☐ B False ☐ C Doesn't say ☐

2 The author spent a lot of time talking to friends on a landline.
A True ☐ B False ☐ C Doesn't say ☐

3 The author can't remember the last time he or she read a paper magazine.
A True ☐ B False ☐ C Doesn't say ☐

4 In India, Internet access using a phone is lower than in other countries.
A True ☐ B False ☐ C Doesn't say ☐

LIVEWORKSHEETS

5 In the UK, most people connect to the Internet using a phone.
A True ☐ B False ☐ C Doesn't say ☐
6 Most Indian shoppers buy their phones in stores.
A True ☐ B False ☐ C Doesn't say ☐
7 It's simple for countries to set up mHealth initiatives.
A True ☐ B False ☐ C Doesn't say ☐
8 An example of mHealth is a cell phone app about pollution in the air.
A True ☐ B False ☐ C Doesn't say ☐
9 One benefit is that mHealth could reduce the amount of travel for rural patients.
A True ☐ B False ☐ C Doesn't say ☐

2 Read the article again. Mark the sentences T (true) or F (false).

Example: The author finds some people's attitude to smartphones annoying. _T_

1 The author thinks smartphone games are better than old board games. ____
2 The author thinks smartphone albums are better than old photo albums. ____
3 India and Indonesia have very different levels of cell phone use. ____
4 Simpler phones are popular in India because of cheap data charges. ____
5 The ideas behind mHealth are easy to understand, even if you're not a doctor. ____
6 The author doesn't think people should store all their health data on their phones. ____

LIVEWORKSHEETS

LIVEWORKSHEETS