

READING

¡Hola chicas y chicos! ¿Cómo están? ¡Espero que muy bien! Esta semana vamos a hacer una actividad de lectura. Recuerden que cuando vamos a leer algo en otro idioma (incluso también en nuestra propia lengua) es importante que antes de comenzar con la lectura, prestemos mucha atención al título, a las imágenes que acompañan al texto, etc. Todo esto nos ayuda a anticipar y hacer predicciones acerca de que se trata el texto y a activar el conocimiento previo que ya tengamos sobre un tema. De esta manera, la lectura nos resultará más fácil. ¡probemos!

ACTIVITIES

1) Observá las imágenes. ¿Qué podés ver? ¿Realizás estas actividades en tu escuela? Lee el texto y numerá las imágenes en orden.

Juan Montovani School

by Marina Alonso

Hi! I'm Marina Alonso and I'm 13 years old. I'm in year 1 at the Juan Montovani Art School in Santa Fe (Argentina)

In the future, I want to be a painter and a sculptor, so I go to this special. It is for students who want to be creative and learn a lot about art.

The school day starts at 7.00 and finishes at 4.30. It is long, but I like it. Some days, there are special activities. We visit museums, decorate hospital walls or have workshops on different artistic productions.

We create a lot of things in pottery.

We enjoy our drawing lessons.

Our school subjects are Spanish, English, Social Studies, Science, Maths and Citizenship. They are obligatory subjects, and so are Drawing, Painting and Pottery.

We have some optional subjects too. This year I'm studying Colonial Art History. It's difficult but it's really interesting! Luckily Miss Arnau, the librarian, always gives me the books I need or helps me to find information in the computer.

We don't have PE lessons because in the afternoon there are a lot of extracurricular activities. We visit children or elderly people in hospitals and nursing homes.

We love our caretaker, Mr. Forni.

Every month, we go to different clubs where local artists teach us different things. It's awesome! This month, I'm going to the Living Statues Club and next month I want to go to the Tiles Club.

Sometimes, we leave the classroom a bit untidy. Mr. Forni, the caretaker never complains and tidies up. We love him!

And sometimes we help him with the cleaning.

We work really hard, but we are more and more creative each day.

That's ART!

We love to be creative.
