

Present perfect with already / yet revision

Mustafa has already done his History and Geography homework, but he hasn't done his Science project yet.

Language focus

Use present perfect with already to talk about actions which have happened before now.

Already means 'before now' or 'before this time'.

This is the form of the sentence: has / have + already + past participle.

Dad has already painted that fence!

Already is also used to express surprise that something has happened sooner than expected.

Sophia is only 12 but she has already lived in Istanbul, Madrid, Beijing and Paris.

Oscar is only 11 but he has already learned to play the violin, piano, guitar and trumpet.

Use present perfect with yet to talk about actions which haven't happened up to now.

Yet means 'up to now' or 'up to this moment in time'. We often use it to talk about something we haven't done but expect to do.

This is the form of the sentence: hasn't / haven't + past participle + yet.

Have you played on the new tennis courts yet? Yes, I have, but I haven't played on the new basketball courts yet.*
