Part A

Father bought a brace _____ pigeons for Robin and helped _____ to build a house for them _____ the backyard. The house was _____ up on a platform. Robin spent hours watching the pigeons going in and _____ and loved to hear them coo.

"You had better get inside now," _____ his mother. "You are wasting your _____. If your report is bad at the _____ of the term, I shall give the pigeons away."

So Robin always _____ his homework before going to look _____ the pigeons. He cleared the cot and gave them water and grains.

Part B

Now complete the story with a suitable word.

One morning when he came to feed the pigeons again, he had a shock. The door of the house built _____ the pigeons was opened. He rushed towards the house while _____, "Father! Mother! Quick! Come here!" It was too late. All the pigeons _____ disappeared.

"Who could have done this?" wondered Robin while _____ parents were searching for the birds everywhere. The door must have been opened _____ the night by their neighbour who disliked seeing birds in cages!

LIVEWORKSHEETS