

write a 200 word paragraph about what have you learnt during this school year and how would you apply that knowledge for the next year...

During this school year, I learned many important things that helped me grow as a student and as a person. I improved my reading and writing skills, and I also learned how to present a topic, because it is not only about writing on poster paper, but also about explaining it clearly. This helped me express my ideas better and feel more confident when speaking. I also learned to work better with numbers in math by solving problems step by step and being patient when something is difficult. In Science, I learned about the world around me and how everything is connected. Another important lesson was responsibility, completing my homework on time, even when I sometimes forget, which taught me to be more organized. I also learned the importance of teamwork, listening to others, and respecting different opinions. I know I need to improve my English, because even though it is difficult, I know it is not impossible. Next year, I will apply this knowledge by studying more, paying attention, practicing and being more disciplined to achieve success.
