Sophie and Daniel are classmates and best friends who enjoy different hobbies and activities. Sophie loves spending time outdoors. Every weekend, she goes hiking with her friends or rides her bike around the city. She is also interested in photography and often takes pictures of nature. However, she doesn't like playing video games because she prefers cycling.

Daniel is quite different. He enjoys staying at home and relaxing after school. He likes playing video games, watching sci-fi movies, and reading comic books. He doesn't enjoy hiking because he thinks it is too tiring. However, he loves photography and sometimes shares his pictures online.

Although Sophie and Daniel have different interests, they get along very well because they respect each other's hobbies and often try new activities together.
