We usually drink coffee and talk for hours when we meet. Right now, she is working at the hospital and is taking care of her patients. She is also studying to improve her professional skills. I am very happy to have such a wonderful friend.

7 Home or away?

A Answer these questions. Then read the passage.

Read the questions carefully and select the correct option (A, B, or C).

1. Read the title below. What do you think a "boomerang kid" is?

2. Are you going to live at home when you leave school? Why or why not?

BOOMERANG KIDS

Today in the United States, many young adults are returning home to live after they graduate from college. They are being called "boomerang kids," like the Australian hunting stick that comes back after you throw it. Many college graduates can't find the jobs they want right away. Some also have college loans to pay back. They don't have enough money to rent expensive apartments, so they go back home to live with their parents. While they live at home, they are working at jobs with low pay and trying to save money for the future.

Meanwhile, the parents of boomerang kids are feeling the challenges of having their adult children back home. Most understand the problems their kids are having with money and accept that they're living with them again. But their relationships are different now. Some parents expect their kids to keep following their rules and to help around the house. Young adults, on the other hand, want to be independent and to make their own decisions. This creates tension between parents and kids. These boomerangs go out as kids, but they come back as adults.
