UNIT 2

Celebrating Success: Drafting and Presenting messages

Learning Objectives:

By the end of the lesson, given a specific scenario prompt, the students will be able to analyze the required scenario and draft a combined congratulatory and complimentary message on a greeting card tailored to the recipient's specific achievement with zero major grammatical error.

By the end of the lesson, using their finished greeting cards, the students will be able to create a presentation delivery strategy and demonstrate their message to the class, showing appropriate volume, eye contact, and enthusiastic intonation.
