Dear Irene, I'm in Edinburgh now, in Scotland. We left London last week and travelled north. Some people say Edinburgh is the most beautiful city in Britain. Well, it's very clean. We are in a small, but comfortable hotel in the centre near the castle. It's quite expensive, but not like London. The people here are very friendly and very helpful, too.

There are many interesting places to visit and a lot of old buildings. We visited the castle of Holyrood House last week. Yesterday we visited Edinburgh Zoo and did some shopping.

The Royal Mile has lots of souvenir shops that sell traditional Scottish souvenirs and there are big department stores on Princes Street. I really love the food here. There are very nice cafés everywhere that serve delicious cakes and hot soups. The only problem is the weather. It is very cold and it rains a lot.

See you soon. Laura
