

Putting words together...

- ▶ If you send a letter or a form to say that you want a job, you apply for a job. If someone offers you a job they tell you that you can have a job, and if you lose your job, your job is taken away, either because you are fired or because the job no longer exists.
- ▶ People who work fewer than the normal number of hours work part-time or have a part-time job. People who work the normal number of hours work full-time or have a full-time job.
- ▶ Someone who is out of work does not have a job. If they want a job, they will have to look for work or look for a job.
- ▶ If you get paid for doing something, you get money for it.
- ▶ The time when you stop to eat in the middle of the day is your lunch break. At that time, we say that people are on their lunch break.

Exercise 4

Match the first part of each sentence (1–6) with the second (a–f).

- |                                                   |                                                              |
|---------------------------------------------------|--------------------------------------------------------------|
| 1 He lost his job last May when the factory shut, | a but she didn't get it.                                     |
| 2 She applied for a job at the hospital           | b a company that develops websites.                          |
| 3 I've been working in a school, but              | c as a driver for a rich businessman.                        |
| 4 He works part-time for                          | d most firms only employ people who already have experience. |
| 5 I was offered a job                             | e and he's been out of work since then.                      |
| 6 I'm looking for a job in advertising but        | f I don't get paid for it.                                   |

Asking about your job

To ask someone what sort of job they do, you can say:

- ▶ What do you do?
- ▶ What sort of work/job do you do?

If someone asks you what you do, you can say something like:

- ▶ I work in a bank/office/factory.
- ▶ I'm a teacher/doctor.
- ▶ I'm working as a nurse/a journalist.
- ▶ I work for a company that makes medical equipment/runs language courses.

Exercise 5

Complete the dialogues. Listen and check.

David: Pleased to meet you, Rose. What sort of <sup>1</sup> job/work do you do?

Rose: I'm <sup>2</sup> _____ as a journalist on a sports magazine at the moment.

David: Do you enjoy it?

Rose: The work is interesting, but my <sup>3</sup> _____ is low, and my boss is a very unpleasant woman.

David: What's wrong with her?

Rose: She arranges meetings at seven o'clock in the morning, and she doesn't even let us have a <sup>4</sup> _____ break.

Beth: It's lovely to see you, Isabel. What do you <sup>5</sup> _____ now?

Isabel: I'm a teacher at the moment, but I'm looking for something different.

Beth: Why is that?

Isabel: I have two small children, and I'd really like a <sup>6</sup> _____ job, so that I can spend more time with them.

Beth: Yes, I see. Working <sup>7</sup> _____ is difficult when you have children, isn't it? A lot of the <sup>8</sup> _____ in my company work part-time for the same reason.

Use the words you've learned...

Describe the job you do or the job you hope to do in the future.
