Topic: How People Learn New Skills

Nowadays, new skills are learned by many people. Online courses are taken by students and workers every day. At the moment, a lot of free classes are being offered on the Internet. These classes are enjoyed by people of all ages.

In the past, learning was more difficult. Ten years ago, most courses were only given in real classrooms. Books were bought by students and lessons were taught by teachers face to face.

Things have changed a lot. Since 2020, many useful apps have been created. New skills have already been learned by millions of people through their phones. For example, English is practiced, cooking is learned, and even new jobs are found online.

Learning is easier today. When new skills are practiced regularly, better jobs are found and life becomes more interesting.

Decide if the statements are True (T), False (F) or Not Given (NG).

1. Online courses are taken by students and workers every day.
2. Free classes are only offered to young people at the moment.
3. Ten years ago, most courses were given online.
4. Many useful apps have been created since 2020.
5. Learning new skills always helps people find better jobs.
