Institución Educativa Técnica INEM Manuel Murillo Toro

"Formamos personas emprendedoras para una vida digna, el trabajo creativo y la educación Superior"
Ibagué – 2026

English - Receptive Skills - 10th Grade - Worksheet 04 - Third Term

Teacher: Manuel Oswaldo Triana Alfonso Unit: Literature, Media & Storytelling
Grammar: Conditionals (Zero, First, Second, Third) Skill: Reading

Student's name:_____ Group:____ Date:

Phase 2: Reading Comprehension

Task: Read the stories and match them to the corresponding pictures on the right.

Story 1: The Dragon's Valley

Nadia crossed the dangerous valley to retrieve a rare healing herb for the queen. Instructor Vane provided her with a magical shield and taught her protective defensive spells. On the journey, Flip, a playful imp, kept switching Nadia's map coordinates to make her walk in circles. Sitting on a cliff was Charles, an exiled knight who was blamed for a past defeat. Driven by a desire to clear his name, Charles guided Nadia toward the herb and protected her from valley beasts.

Story 2: The Forest Festival

Maya entered the kingdom's archery contest to win the prize money for her family's debt. Master Thorne, a retired champion, trained her every morning so she could master her aim. During the competition, Jax, a clever prankster, threw itchy powder on Maya's bow to make her miss her final shot. Watching from the shadows was Kael, a lonely hermit who was banished from town after a tragic accident. Kael unexpectedly caught Jax in the act, protecting Maya's chance to win.

Story 3: The Market Dispute

Leo stood up against an aggressive merchant to protect an elderly flower seller. Grandma Rose, the town's elder, gave Leo crucial advice on how to remain calm and fair. Meanwhile, Toby, a dishonest street performer, deliberately dropped marbles on the cobblestones to make shoppers fall and laugh at their misery. Observing from the alley was Damian, an outcast who lived outside the city walls because people feared his shadow magic. Damian stepped in to protect Leo from harm, hoping to gain acceptance.

Story 4: The Mountain Path

Lucas wanted to cross the stormy ridge to bring medicine to his sick sister. Old Elijah gave him a sturdy lantern and taught him how to read the mountain winds. Meanwhile, Fox, a mischievous traveler, swapped the direction signs on the road just to confuse passing wanderers. Deep in the dark valley lived Silas, who was exiled from the village years ago because he looked different. Lucas followed Elijah's advice, ignored Fox's misleading path, and successfully reached his home.

LIVEWORKSHEETS

Story 5: The Royal Library

Young Elena entered the grand library to find a lost spell that could save her drought-stricken village. Master Corvus, the wise head librarian, gave her a glowing compass to guide her search through the endless shelves. However, Puck, a playful goblin, hid the catalog cards because he enjoyed watching scholars get frustrated. In the dusty basement lived Bran, an exiled scholar who was rejected by the council for studying forbidden stars. Bran silently handed Elena the missing book, wanting only to prove his true worth.

Story 6: The Sea Voyage

Captain Mateo sailed into dangerous waters to rescue marooned sailors from a reef. Captain Nora, an experienced navigator, shared her old maps and warned Mateo about hidden rocks. Onboard, Pip, a mischievous sailor, secretly loosened the ropes because he wanted to delay the trip and cause panic. Alone in the lighthouse lived Aaron, a disgraced sailor banished after losing his ship. Seeking forgiveness from the town, Aaron kept the giant light burning through the thick fog, guiding Mateo safely to shore.

Story 7: The Sunken Temple

Sofia dived deep into the flooded ruins to retrieve the sacred sun crystal. Professor Vance gave her a special breathing potion and explained the ancient symbols on the temple walls. Before she descended, Sly, a competitive diver, untied her safety line to slow her down and steal the glory. Watching near the entrance was Gideon, a former guardian banished for breaking a sacred oath. Wanting to redeem himself, Gideon reattached Sofia's rope and kept her safe from dangerous underwater currents.

Story 8: The Winter Siege

Julian gathered firewood for the frozen village during the worst blizzard in decades. Old Beatrice showed him where the driest logs were hidden and how to build a lasting fire. However, Bram, a local trickster, hid Julian's axe in the snow to make his task harder. Sitting alone in an abandoned cabin was Malakor, an outcast exiled for practicing strange alchemy. Seeking warmth and community, Malakor returned the axe and offered Julian magical fire powder to keep the village warm.

Phase 3: Analysis Lab

Write at least 2 keywords and 1 sentence that helped you decide on how to match the texts to their correspoding pictures.

LIVEWORKSHEETS