Homework: Listen and write 1,2 or three words in the blanket.

Listen and look. There is one example.

Man: It was such a cold day today. Can you see the ice on the balcony in this picture!

Girl: Yes, Dad. Are all those children in your class?

Man: Yes. I took them up the mountain for a sports lesson this afternoon.

There's

Girl: The boy with the Man: That's right. He was a bit sore after he But he was OK!

Can you see the line? Now you listen and draw lines.

Girl: Who's that girl? The one with the Man: That's She's very good at most sports.

Girl: But it must be hard work, pulling it up that hill.

Man: Yes, but she had good on. That helped.

Man: Look at those two with the Girl: Yes! One looks quite! What's that kid's name?

Man: The girl?

Girl: I meant the boy, actually.

Man: Oh! That's! He was all right. He just didn't like getting cold

Man: And 's here somewhere as well.

Girl: Is that her? The girl with the Man: Oh yes! There she is.

Girl: Did she forget to bring her

Man: Yes, she did! Silly girl.

Girl: Is that boy good at

Man: The one who's coming down really fast?

Girl: I meant the one in the What's his name, Dad?

Man: That's He's having some lessons so, yes, he's really improving.

Girl: What about that girl. She looks really cool!

Man: Oh that's

Girl: Is her new? It looks new.

Man: I don't know, but her helmet is.

Girl: So you had a fun day, Dad!

Man: Yes. I was a bit worried about this lesson, but no-one needed bandages or x-rays so that was good!!

Girl: Ha ha!
