Unit Test 7–9

Vocabulary & Grammar/Language — 20 Items

Name: _____ Score: _____ / 20

A. Vocabulary

Choose the best answer.

1. The wings of a butterfly are usually _____ because both sides have the same shape.
a. infinite b. symmetrical c. internal d. identical

2. The two pieces of the puzzle are _____ and fit together perfectly.
a. interlocking b. aesthetic c. minute d. dazzling

3. The scientist works in a _____ where she conducts experiments.
a. fragment b. laboratory c. arrangement d. structure

4. The scientist looked through the _____ of the microscope.
a. examination b. image c. eyepiece d. dimensions

5. There was a _____ amount of food at the party.
a. minute b. copious c. identical d. internal

6. The bright lights were so _____ that I had to look away.
a. concealed b. dazzling c. infinite d. raised

7. She made a hand _____ to show us where to go.
a. gesture b. refusal c. distress d. group

8. The soup _____ salt, so I added some more.
a. consists b. enables c. lacks d. transmits

9. The house was _____ by trees, so we couldn't see it.
a. beckoned b. concealed c. raised d. grouped

10. Email is one way to _____ a message quickly.
a. transmit b. stare c. surpass d. reproduce

B. Grammar & Language

Choose the best answer.

11. I like studying science. _____, I don't enjoy doing experiments.
a. However b. Unlike c. On the other hand d. Both a and c

12. French and Italian are similar. _____ Mandarin Chinese, they belong to a different language family.
a. However b. Unlike c. Because d. So

13. Which sentence is written correctly?
a. 4 out of these 5 shells are symmetrical.
b. Four out of these five shells are symmetrical.
c. Four out of these 5 shells are symmetrical.
d. 4 out of these five shells are symmetrical.

14. Choose the correct sentence.
a. I found 73 different examples of symmetry.
b. I found seventy-three different examples of symmetry.
c. I found seventy three different examples of symmetry.
d. I found 73 different example of symmetry.

15. Which sentence uses however correctly?
a. I like languages, however I don't like mathematics.
b. I like languages. However, I don't like mathematics.
c. I like languages however, I don't like mathematics.
d. However I like languages, I don't like mathematics.

LIVEWORKSHEETS

16. Complete the sentence: Mirror writing is a kind of code. _____, it is not a language.
a. Because b. However c. So d. And

17. Choose the correct form: The building is _____, but its internal structure is very simple.
a. aesthetic b. aesthetically c. aesthetics d. aestheticly

18. Choose the correct sentence.
a. The scientist triumphantly won the competition.
b. The scientist won triumphantly the competition.
c. The scientist triumphantly the competition won.
d. The scientist was triumphantly win the competition.

19. The museum is beautiful. _____, it is also very useful for students.
a. However b. On the other hand c. Unlike d. Both a and b

20. Rewrite the sentence using unlike:
English uses an alphabet. Chinese uses characters.

→ _____

_____

LIVEWORKSHEETS