Safety and Ergonomic Procedures in an Accounting & Financial Office

Good morning everyone. Welcome to the Accounting and Financial Laboratory. Before starting your computer accounting simulation, you must strictly adhere to our workplace safety and ergonomic guidelines.

First, adjust your ergonomic chair so that your feet rest (1) _____ on the floor and your knees form a 90-degree angle to support your lower back.

Next, position your computer monitor at (2) _____ level, approximately arm's length away, and apply an anti-glare screen filter to prevent eye strain.

Then, organize your desk space neatly by keeping financial documents, paper clips, and heavy ledgers away from electrical cables and power (3) _____.

After that, ensure that all office equipment such as paper shredders, calculators, and cash counting machines are properly plugged into grounded sockets without (4) _____ multi-plug adaptors.

During your work session, remember to take short 5-minute ergonomic stretch breaks every hour to avoid repetitive (5) _____ injuries.
