Bamboo Houses

Growing concern over the effects of modern construction methods has meant that some architects are looking to more (1) _____ ways of making buildings. One interesting project is in Bali, where designers are using bamboo to create schools and (2) _____ spaces. Bamboo is a type of wood which has been used to build houses for thousands of years. Apart from being (3) _____ for the environment (it's biodegradable), there's also no shortage of it in Bali, where it grows quickly and easily. Not only that, but bamboo's flexibility means that there's plenty of (4) _____ in the designs. Bamboo is not the best material in (5) _____ weather. However, if treated properly, these bamboo structures can last for many years.
