Welcome to London – Regent's Park

In Regent's Park: Inside the park there are lots of things for children to explore. You can go boating on the lake, watch a play at the outdoor theatre or take part in sports activities at The Hub, London's biggest outdoor sports centre.

London Zoo: The world famous London Zoo is also located inside the park. You can see large mammals like elephants and gorillas, the reptile house, the aviary full of birds and the world's first butterfly house.

Near the Park

Madame Tussauds: South of the park is one of London's major attractions – the waxwork museum. This houses statues of all kinds of famous people from the worlds of sport, film, music and royal families. You can stand next to the statue of David Beckham and ask someone to take a photo!

The Sherlock Holmes Museum: Cross the road into Baker Street and find number 221B, the address of the famous detective Sherlock Holmes. Visit the small museum dedicated to him.
