

I recently watched The Office, a famous T.V. show. with 9 seasons and 201 episodes.

I had just finished Abbott Elementary and I enjoy my own company watching comedy T.V. shows, so I was looking for a new one. Finally, I decided to give the opportunity to an old one I hadn't seen before: "The Office". At first, I wasn't so sure about it because I get easily bored and, to be sincere, I am not a risk-taker when it comes to the way I spend my free time, but I had heard some people saying it was great.

Michael Scott is the main character in it. He works in a paper company and he is the boss of the Scranton branch. He is such a wierd man, but yet, so common. I think you can find your own Michael Scott wherever you work. And actually, I think that is the reason why I like this show so much. All of the characters represent someone you know in your own context, and even some of the weird situations you might live it by your own at some point of your life.

Michael gives the impression of he doesn't deserve being the boss because, again, he is such a weird person. He has an outgoing personality and a special sense of humor. He thinks of himself he is a good company but yet, he feels lonely because he does not have any friends. He considers people from the office like his own family, but his co-workers avoid them almost all the time.

As you keep watching the show, you will realize that Michael, who is usually considered a bad company, is not a bad person at all. Sometimes, he just speaks his mind making people feel uncomfortable.

I could keep going talking about this T.V. show because it is really funny, but in case you have not seen it yet, I will not spam. So, give The Office the opportunity to surprise you and learn about their characters while watching it.

1. According to what you read, select the correct option:

- a) Michael, where is the boss, is the main character in The Office.
- b) Michael which is the boss is the main character in The Office.
- c) Michael who is the boss is the main character in The Office.
- d) Michael, who is the boss, is the main character in The Office.

2. When the author says “I get easily bored and, to be sincere, I am not a risk-taker”, it means:

- a) Has difficulty in finding interest in something and doesn't like taking risks.
- b) Likes taking risks and avoids meeting other people.
- c) Has difficulty in finding interest in something and likes taking risks.
- d) Has the ability to imagine things easily.

3. When the author says: “Michael gives the impression of he doesn't deserve being the boss”, the personality collocation is:

- a) Gives the impression.
- b) Being the boss.
- c) Doesn't deserve.
- d) Impression.

4. Select the correct sentence with a defining relative clause:

- a) Michael is someone where works in an office.
- b) Michael, who works in an office, feels lonely.
- c) Michael is someone who works in an office.
- d) Michael works in an office.

5. The sentence “Michael, who is usually considered a bad company, is not a bad person at all” is:

- a) A defining relative clause, using the relative pronoun who.
- b) A non-defining relative clause, using the relative pronoun who.
- c) A defining relative clause, using the relative pronoun usually.
- d) A non-defining relative clause, using the relative pronoun bad company.

6. When the author says “I enjoy my own company watching comedy T.V. shows”, it means:

- a) Likes taking risks and avoids meeting other people.
- b) Enjoy being by yourself.
- c) Tell what you really think of something.
- d) Become very angry or rageful.

7. Choose the correct personality collocation used in the text to refer to “To be unpleasant to be with”:

- a) Good company.
- b) Bad company.
- c) Lose his temper.
- d) Get easily bored.