A School Clean-Up Day

Last Friday, the students of SMP 10 November Jakarta joined a school clean-up activity. The activity started at 7 a.m. after the morning prayer. Our teacher divided us into several groups.

My group cleaned the classroom and the school garden. First, we swept the floor and collected the rubbish. Then, we cleaned the windows and arranged the tables and chairs. After that, we went to the garden. We picked up plastic waste and dry leaves. We also planted some flowers near the classroom.

At first, we felt tired because the weather was quite hot. However, we continued working together. Finally, we finished our work at 10 a.m. The school looked cleaner and more beautiful. We felt proud because we learned that keeping our school clean is everyone's responsibility.

My Experience Joining a School Competition

Last month, I joined an English storytelling competition at school. It was my first storytelling competition, so I felt very nervous.

A week before the competition, I chose an Indonesian folktale and practiced it every day. My English teacher helped me improve my pronunciation and expression. My friends also encouraged me to do my best.

On the competition day, I waited for my turn in front of the classroom. When the teacher called my name, I walked onto the stage. At first, my hands were shaking, but I tried to stay calm. I told the story confidently and remembered all the parts of the story.

At the end of the event, the judges announced the winners. I was surprised when they called my name as the second-place winner. I was very happy and proud of myself. The experience taught me that practice and confidence can help us achieve our goals.

Questions 5-8

- 5 What competition did the writer join?
Answer: _____
- 6 Why did the writer feel nervous before the competition?
Answer: _____
- 7 How did the English teacher and the writer's friends help the writer?
Answer: _____
- 8 What happened when the writer's name was called by the teacher? Describe the event briefly.
Answer: _____
