A weekend trip!
By Holly Brown, age 14

Clara started her road trip. She was excited for everything she was going to see. First, she stopped at a petrol station because she needed to fill her car with petrol. Then she found the town on the map where she needed to drive to.

She arrived at the town and decided to catch a tram to do all of her sightseeing. She got onto her platform when her tram arrived. She didn't know where to go first, the famous building or the big lake? She chose the famous building.

The tram stopped and she pulled out her map. She walked to the famous building but there were so many tourists, she couldn't see much. She felt disappointed that it was so crowded. She will get to the building earlier if she comes back.
