Dear Editor,

Last year, I went on a strict diet. I lost seven kilogrammes in a month. My parents took me to the hospital. The doctors told me that I had to eat a balanced diet. I needed nutrients to recover since I had lost so much weight so quickly.

I know what I did was unhealthy, but I still dislike my body. My parents are forcing me to eat more rice and bread. Help me! I just want to have a fit body.

Camilia

The Fight

I get along very well with my family. (0) _____, last Saturday we had one of the worst arguments we have had in ages. It was my sister (9) _____ started the whole fight.

She asked me if she could borrow my favourite sunglasses. When I refused, she simply took them from my drawer! When I (10) _____ to my parents, they told me not to be so childish. Dad said I ought to be a bit more generous. He gave me a (11) _____ about giving in to my younger siblings. This annoyed me to no end, but I did not say anything more.

I went to the study to work on my science report (12) _____ I thought would take 45 minutes to complete. I had planned to go out after that. My friends wanted to check out a new café and I had agreed to (13) _____ them there as soon as I could. The café was just a ten-minute walk (14) _____ my house, so I planned to walk there.

I thought I (15) _____ get permission from my parents anyway. They usually allow me to do what I want because I am not as irresponsible (16) _____ my sister. Unfortunately, this time they refused to allow me to go out alone. They wanted me to go with my sister. They said that (17) _____ I disagreed, I should just stay at home. We had a terrible argument. The more I protested, the more furious they became. In the end, Mum ordered me to go to my bedroom where I spent a dull evening. My sister and I have not spoken (18) _____ the incident.
