

Touristic Places

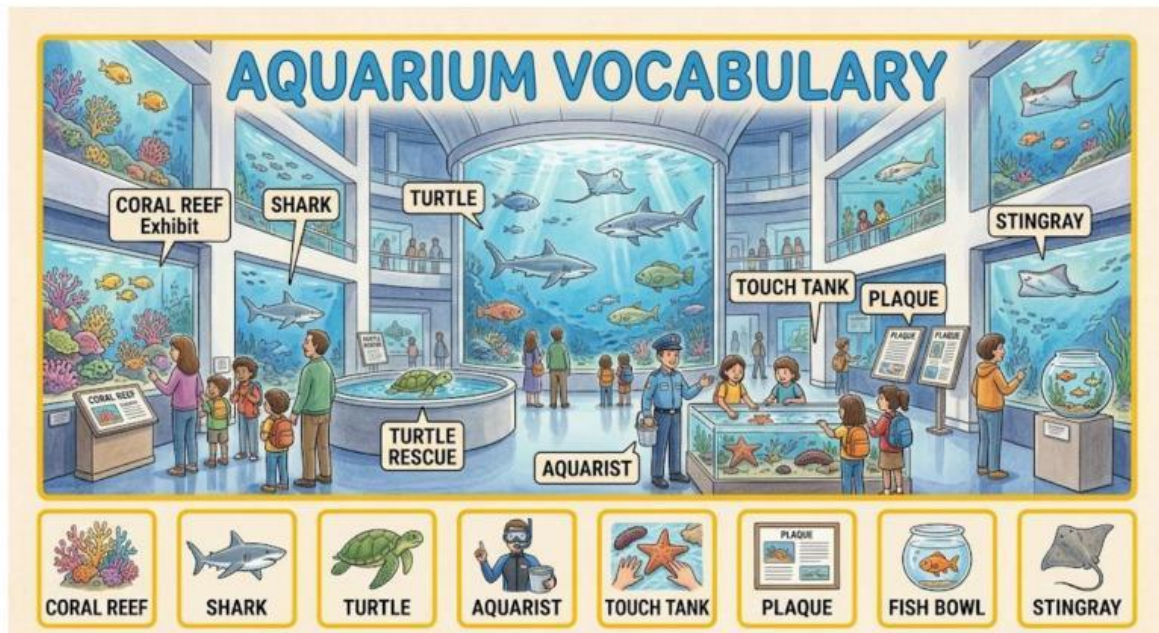

Welcome to the big aquarium! The water is blue and clean. You walk inside and see many colorful fish.

Look! A small orange clownfish swims in the plants. A big sea turtle glides in the water. It moves its fins slowly. Near the sand, a flat stingray swims.

You walk into a long glass tunnel. Look up! A large shark swims over your head. It has big fins and moves fast. Next to the shark, pretty pink jellyfish float gently.

In a small pool, children touch a red starfish. They smile and laugh.

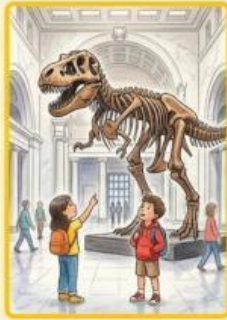

The aquarium is beautiful and quiet. Many animals live here together!

A Fun Day at the Museum

Today, Mia and Leo visit the city museum. The museum building is very big and old. They walk together to the large front doors with their backpacks on.

Inside, the museum has many cool things to see. First, they enter a large room and stop in surprise. They see a huge dinosaur skeleton standing right in the middle of the hall! "Look how big it is!" Mia points up at the massive bones.

Next, they walk into the art gallery to look at the paintings. Mia stops in front of a big, beautiful picture framed in gold. The painting shows a bright yellow sun, purple mountains, and red flowers. She loves the bright colors.

Finally, they visit the statue room. They see a white stone statue standing very still with one hand raised. Leo smiles and poses just like the statue! Mia laughs. They have a wonderful day at the museum.

OUR VISIT TO THE STREET MARKET

Walking In

Mia and Leo are at the market. It is busy and exciting.

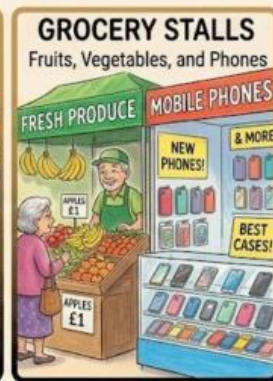

Food Stalls

Yum! We buy fresh tacos and corn.

Goods Stalls

There are clothes and toys for sale. Many people buy things.

Grocery Stalls

The market has fresh fruits and big vegetables. You can also buy mobile phones!

A Busy Day at the Street Market

Today, Maria and Carlos visit the local street market. The market is outdoors, busy, and full of bright colors. Many people come here every weekend to shop.

First, they smell delicious hot food. An elotes vendor cooks fresh corn on a stick with cheese and chili, while next to him a cook flips tasty tacos on a hot grill. Maria buys a warm elote, and Carlos buys two tacos.

Next, they walk past long rows of shopping stalls. One stall sells colorful clothes and shirts. Another stall has fun plastic toys for children, and a table nearby has interesting used things like old books and clocks.

Finally, they visit the produce and electronics area. They stop at a green grocer stall to buy red apples and green vegetables. Right next door, a tech stall displays mobile phones and bright, colorful phone cases. Carlos buys a blue phone case for his mobile phone. They carry their bags home, happy after a fun day at the market!

A Fun Day at the Castle

Today, Mia and Leo visit a very old castle. The castle sits on top of a hill and has high, strong stone walls. They walk together across the stone bridge toward the big main gate with their backpacks on.

Inside, the castle is huge and very dark! First, they step into the Great Hall. They stop in surprise to look around the high ceilings, giant fireplace, and long wooden tables. "Look how big this room is!" Mia says, pointing up at the wooden beams.

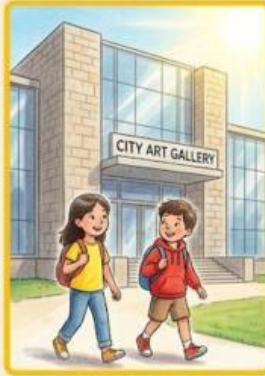

Next, they walk down a narrow hallway to see historical treasures. Mia stops to look at an old painting of a queen hanging on the wall. Right next to it stands a full suit of silver knight armor! Mia inspects the shiny metal helmet and boots.

Finally, they go out into the sunny courtyard. In the middle of the yard stands a stone statue of a brave knight sitting on a horse. Leo finds a toy wooden sword and shield, smiles, and poses like a knight! Mia laughs. They have a wonderful day exploring the castle.

A Fun Day at the Art Gallery

Today, Mia and Leo visit the city art gallery. The building is modern, bright, and very clean. They walk through the front doors together, excited to explore all the artwork inside.

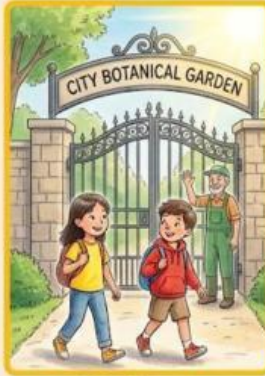

Inside, the gallery is spacious with huge white walls and shiny floors. First, they stand in the main hallway and look up. They see high glass ceilings and colorful artwork hanging everywhere. "This place is huge!" Leo says as they look around the big rooms.

Next, Mia stops in front of a giant portrait painting on the wall. The picture shows a face painted with bright blue, yellow, and red colors. Mia loves art and looks closely at the creative colors.

Finally, they go to the sculpture room. In the middle of the room stands a white stone statue of a man raising his hand. Leo stands beside the statue and raises his arm to copy its pose! Mia laughs and takes a picture. They have a fantastic time visiting the art gallery
