

Question 3A

Read the paragraph below.

Many students benefit from joining extracurricular activities. First, these activities help students develop social skills. Students learn how to communicate effectively with different people. They also learn how to work cooperatively in teams. In addition, extracurricular activities can improve leadership abilities. Club members often organize events and manage responsibilities. Some students become team captains or committee leaders. Others gain experience making important decisions. Finally, participation in extracurricular activities can strengthen university applications. Admissions officers often value applicants who are active beyond the classroom.

The paragraph has been broken into separate sentences. Drag and drop each sentence into the correct position in the outline.

Remember:

- I = Main Idea
- A, B, C = Supporting Ideas
- 1, 2, 3 = Supporting Details/Examples

Use every sentence once only.

Many students benefit from joining extracurricular activities.

First, these activities help students develop social skills.

Students learn how to communicate effectively with different people.

They also learn how to work cooperatively in teams.

In addition, extracurricular activities can improve leadership abilities.

Club members often organize events and manage responsibilities.

Some students become team captains or committee leaders.

Others gain experience making important decisions.

Finally, participation in extracurricular activities can strengthen university applications.

Admissions officers often value applicants who are active beyond the classroom.

Outline

I. _____

A. _____

1. _____

2. _____

B. _____

1. _____

2. _____

3. _____

C. _____

1. _____

Question 3B

Read the paragraph below.

Technology has transformed the way students learn in higher education. One major advantage is easier access to information. Students can locate academic articles through online databases within minutes. They can also access educational videos and digital textbooks from nearly any location. Another benefit is increased flexibility in learning. Many online platforms allow students to study at their own pace. Recorded lectures enable them to revisit difficult concepts whenever necessary. A further advantage is improved collaboration among students. Discussion forums encourage the exchange of ideas beyond classroom hours. Shared online documents also allow group members to work on projects simultaneously. Overall, technology has become an important tool that enhances learning opportunities for students.

The paragraph has been broken into separate sentences. Drag and drop each sentence into the correct position in the outline.

Remember:

- I = Main Idea
- A, B, C = Supporting Ideas

- 1, 2, 3 = Supporting Details/Examples

Use every sentence once only.

Technology has transformed the way students learn in higher education.

One major advantage is easier access to information.

Students can locate academic articles through online databases within minutes.

They can also access educational videos and digital textbooks from nearly any location.

Another benefit is increased flexibility in learning.

Many online platforms allow students to study at their own pace.

Recorded lectures enable them to revisit difficult concepts whenever necessary.

A further advantage is improved collaboration among students.

Discussion forums encourage the exchange of ideas beyond classroom hours.

Shared online documents also allow group members to work on projects simultaneously.

Overall, technology has become an important tool that enhances learning opportunities for students.

Outline

I. _____

A. _____

1. _____

2. _____

B. _____

1. _____

2. _____

C. _____

1. _____

2. _____

Question 3C

Read the paragraph below.

Volunteering offers valuable experiences that contribute to personal development. One benefit is the improvement of interpersonal skills. Volunteers frequently interact with people from different age groups and backgrounds. They also learn how to communicate effectively in a variety of situations. Another advantage is the development of practical workplace skills. Many volunteers gain experience organizing events and managing responsibilities. They may also learn to solve problems when unexpected challenges arise. A third benefit is the development of greater social awareness. Volunteers often gain a deeper understanding of community issues and societal needs. In addition, they become more aware of the challenges faced by disadvantaged groups. In conclusion, volunteering provides meaningful opportunities for personal growth while benefiting the wider community.

The paragraph has been broken into separate sentences. Drag and drop each sentence into the correct position in the outline.

Remember:

- I = Main Idea
- A, B, C = Supporting Ideas
- 1, 2, 3 = Supporting Details/Examples

Use every sentence once only.

Volunteering offers valuable experiences that contribute to personal development.

One benefit is the improvement of interpersonal skills.

Volunteers frequently interact with people from different age groups and backgrounds.

They also learn how to communicate effectively in a variety of situations.

Another advantage is the development of practical workplace skills.

Many volunteers gain experience organizing events and managing responsibilities.

They may also learn to solve problems when unexpected challenges arise.

A third benefit is the development of greater social awareness.

Volunteers often gain a deeper understanding of community issues and societal needs.

In addition, they become more aware of the challenges faced by disadvantaged groups.

In conclusion, volunteering provides meaningful opportunities for personal growth while benefiting the wider community.

Outline

I. _____

A. _____

1. _____

2. _____

B. _____

1. _____

2. _____

3. _____

C. _____

1. _____

2. _____