

Gimme some truth ! was composed by John Lennon and was the 6 th song on his Imagine album

(1971). In the video below, you can see Lennon recording the song but in this studio version the lyrics are not exactly in the same order as in the final version. So checking the lyrics on the Internet will NOT give you the right answer. What you have to do is tick the adjectives that really are in the song.

1/ Tick the adjectives used by Lennon.

☐	Big-eyed	☐	Tight-lipped
☐	Narrow-minded	☐	Egocentric
☐	Black-eyed	☐	Short-haired
☐	Pig-headed	☐	Big-bellied
☐	Pessimistic	☐	Rebellious
☐	Short-sighted	☐	Yellow-bellied
☐	Sick to death	☐	Sarcastic

Now, looking at the numbers, copy the six « compound adjectives » (ajectifs composés) still in the order of the song.

1		4
2		5
3		6

Ex 2 Now, click below to remember what you probably saw when you were in junior high.

Ex 3 This video (also in French !) will give you some more details.

Ex 4 Now CLICK HEREfor a little quizlet memorizing exercise.

Ex 5 HERE IS A LINK TO A LITTLE EXERCISE. JUST CLICK !

Ex 6 Watch a video about protest songs. Then choose RIGHT, WRONG or DK (I don't know)

	Right	Wrong	D.K
In his song, Pete Seeger tried to help the black community in the USA.
In « Bloody Sunday », U2 protested against army violence in 1972.
N.W.A wrote about police brutality in South African ghettos.
« Ohio » is one of B.Obama's favourite songs.
« Killing in the name » was a protest against racism in the USA.
Puclic Enemy's song « Fight the power » influenced Tupac Shakur.
« Get up, stand up » was inspired by poverty in Haiti
Bob Dylan was a tribute to President Kennedy.
Marvin Gaye was a singer and billionaire.
Lennon wrote « Give peace a chance » thinking about war in Iraq.			