Never is it more important to fit in than during adolescence, that critical time of development when a young person's character is 1. _____ and they find their place in the world. To be 2. _____ or socially 3. _____ is, in fact, probably the worst nightmare for most teens, and the majority will do anything to avoid it, even if that means 4. _____ their own beliefs, 5. _____ to peer pressure and doing things they normally would never dream of. But it is in the making of such compromises that a teen's life can be destroyed in an instant. Indeed, it is not at all uncommon for an otherwise perfectly decent young lad or lass to fall in with the wrong crowd and find themselves caught up in all sorts of trouble. Depending on how impressionable a teen is, and the extent to which they 6. _____ for acceptance, there is no telling what they will do in their efforts to gain same, from 7. _____ with drugs to 8. _____ themselves in criminal activities. The key determining factor in 9. _____ the likelihood of whether a young person will go off the rails is not simply their background as one might expect. It is, in fact, the extent to which their parents have 10. _____ confidence and a sense of self-worth in them as they have grown up. A child who is at ease in their own skin and confident in who and what they represent as a person is far less likely to put themselves in a position where they will be compromising their morals simply to 11. _____ a few peers. In short, you can give a child the best education money can buy and 12. _____ on them all the moral virtues and wisdom you wish, but this will count for nothing unless you also 13. _____ in them an appreciation of their own value as an individual. Only then will they be able to 14. _____ the pressure from their peers and the natural inclination to try to 15. _____ popular and be considered 'cool' regardless of the consequences.
