A Project, a Problem and a Good Solution

Sometimes things don't go as planned... but we can always find a way!

In the end, Juan felt proud. He learned a valuable lesson: even when things are difficult, we can find solutions if we stay calm and keep trying.

Juan talked to his classmate and asked for help. She gave him a great idea: he could use his phone to take pictures and create a new poster at school.

When Juan arrived at school, he realized that he didn't have his project. He felt worried and thought about what to do.

Juan woke up early on Monday and went to school. He was happy because it was the day to present his interdisciplinary project. However, he forgot to take it from home.

Later, Juan presented his project in class. He was nervous at first, but he did it well. His teacher and classmates liked it.

Juan quickly took some photos, searched for information, and made a new poster. He worked hard and finished it in time.
