Travel Stories from Young People

This week, we hear about three holiday stories from young travelers.

Pattaya

It was our last day in Pattaya, and my friends and I wanted to go to the beach on Koh Larn island. The hotel receptionist gave us the ferry timetable, and we went to the pier. We met another tourist there called Lars. He wanted to go to Koh Larn, too. We waited and waited, but the ferry didn't come. Then Lars checked an app and found out we could take a speedboat instead. The journey was really fast and exciting! We had so much fun together that day. By the way, Lars is now my husband!

Alaska

I don't usually like selfie sticks, but they are useful on holiday. I was in Alaska with my friends from university. They all had selfie sticks, so I decided to buy one, too. But I didn't want to spend a lot of money, so I got a cheap one. The four of us went on a kayak trip to see a glacier. It was a great day! I wanted to take a selfie, so I put my phone on the selfie stick, but it fell into the water! I felt so silly. My friends tried not to laugh, but in the end, we all laughed together.

Rome

Before our holiday to Rome, our friends told us there was a lot of traffic, so my husband and I rented two Vespas to get around the city. They were really easy to ride. On the second day, we went to a nice restaurant. I wore some nice clothes and put on red lipstick. But I didn't know that flies and mosquitoes would stick to my lips because of the lipstick! When we got to the restaurant, my lips were covered in flies! My husband thought it was funny. I didn't wear make-up on the scooter again!

LOST IN THE MOUNTAINS!

Tom Roberts hated living in the city. He thought it was noisy and crowded, and his flat was so expensive, he spent most of his money on it.

All week at work he thought about the weekends, when he could get away to the countryside. On Fridays, he packed his tent and some food and water, and caught a bus to the mountains. That was where he felt really happy. He didn't mind camping, even in winter - he just took a very warm sleeping bag!

One weekend, he went to the mountains as usual. He followed a path into a forest. He enjoyed the silence and the clean, fresh air. He thought about his job and the city where he lived. He decided that he wanted a new job, away from the city. But what job could he do in the countryside? He thought about all of this, and he didn't think about where he was going. Then he stopped. He felt cold. It was dark. And he had no idea where he was.

He tried to walk in a straight line. He was sure he must come to a road soon! Three days later, he was still walking. By now, he was hungry, dirty and afraid. He started to think that he could never get out of the mountains. Then he heard a strange noise. The noise got louder and louder until at last he saw a helicopter in the air above him.

Tom knew this was his last chance. He took off his red shirt, climbed onto a large rock and waved it. When the helicopter flew closer, he knew he was safe at last.
