

Grammar

Countable and uncountable nouns

We can count some things.
These are countable nouns.

We can't count some things.
These are uncountable nouns.

1 Can you count the objects? Write the words in the correct column.

Countable	Uncountable
	milk

+ some – positive

Countable nouns can be singular or plural.
Use some with plurals.

I've got a chip.
I've got some chips.

Uncountable nouns can't be plural.

I've got some sugar.

Use some with all uncountable nouns.

2 Write the correct form of the noun.

- I've got some (peanut) for the giraffe.
I've got some peanuts for the giraffe.
- There are some (apple) in the car.
- There are some (banana) too.
- Hey! It can have some (water)!
- I've got some (peach).
- Water? I've got some (lemonade).
- There's some (sugar) here.
- I've got some (orange).

3 Complete the sentences with a or some.

- There's some lemonade in the fridge.
- I've got _____ computer in my room.
- There's _____ sugar in the cupboard.
- There's _____ pen in my bag.
- There's _____ food on the table.
- 'Can I have _____ orange juice, please?'
- He's got _____ milk.
- Mark's got _____ banana.

