

The Tale of King Midas

"Listen to the audios and link each one to the correct picture."

Audio	Pictures
"King Midas was a very rich king, but he wanted to be richer."	 A cartoon illustration of King Midas kneeling in front of the Greek god Dionysus. Dionysus, with a long beard and a laurel wreath, is standing and gesturing towards Midas. They are outdoors under a vine-covered arbor.
"The Greek god Dionysus offered Midas one wish."	 A cartoon illustration of King Midas sitting on a throne, surrounded by a vast amount of gold coins and bars. He is looking down at the gold with a satisfied expression.
"Midas wished that everything he touched would turn to gold."	 A cartoon illustration of King Midas standing in a doorway, touching the door frame with his right hand. The door and frame are glowing with a golden light.
"Midas touched the door, and it turned to gold."	 A cartoon illustration of King Midas standing in a grand, ornate palace interior. The entire room, including the columns, floor, and furniture, is made of gold.

"Midas touched his food, and the bread turned to gold."

"Midas hugged his daughter, but she turned into a golden statue."

"Dionysus told Midas to go to the river and wash his hands."

"Midas learned that love and family were more important than gold."

