PART C: READING (3,0 POINTS)

I. Read the following passage and put a word in the box in each of the numbered blanks:

Every community has its own unique needs, and it's important for people to (1) and contribute whenever they can. One of the best ways to do this is by taking part in community services, such as cleaning streets, planting trees, or (2) local shelters. These activities not only make the area a better place to live, but they also bring people closer together.

When you help others, you feel a sense of satisfaction and joy. There's nothing (3) than seeing the smile on someone's face after you've done something kind for them. It also teaches you valuable skills and makes you appreciate your own life more.

Additionally, volunteering helps to build strong relationships between people. (4) working together, individuals can learn more about their community and develop a sense of belonging. Whether you're young or old, everyone has something to offer. You just need to be willing to give it a try!

In conclusion, becoming active in your community not only helps others, but it also helps you grow as a person. It's important to understand that (5) small action can lead to big changes.

II. Read the following passage and do the tasks below:

Having a well-balanced life as a secondary student is important for both academic success and personal well-being. Students should try to manage their time wisely, so they can complete their homework, prepare for exams, and still have time for other activities. One tip is to create a daily schedule, listing all the tasks that need to be done. It's also important to include time for relaxation, such as playing sports or hanging out with friends. Additionally, students should ensure they get enough sleep each night because being well-rested helps them focus better in class. Another key factor in maintaining a balanced life is having good relationships with friends, family, and teachers. By balancing their responsibilities and leisure time, students can reduce stress and improve their overall happiness.

Questions:
