Listen to the radio host ask people about their best friends. Complete the chart.

1.

Host: Here's Tony, our first caller. Who would you say is your best friend, Tony?

Tony: I guess it's my friend Bob. We get along really well.

Host: How did you meet him?

Tony: It was at a friend's birthday party last year.

Host: Oh, yeah?

Tony: Yeah. We were sitting next to each other at dinner and realized we had a lot in common. So, we kept in touch after the party, and we hang out together all the time now.

Host: What's he like?

Tony: Bob? He's really fun, and he has a great sense of humor. He's always telling great jokes and making people laugh.

Host: So, what do you two guys do when you get together?

Tony: Well, we sometimes go and see a movie, or sometimes we go downtown with other friends after work.

2.

Host: Who is your best friend, Carla?

Carla: Oh, my girlfriend Maggie. We've been friends since we were in high school.

Host: Oh?

Carla: Yeah, we both used to play on the school softball team. That's where we first got to know each other.

Host: I see.

Carla: It's interesting that we're still such good friends because Maggie's a bit different from me.

Host: In what way?

Carla: She's very sociable and talks a lot about everything. I'm more of a listener, I think. Maybe that's why we get along so well.

Host: So, what do you two like to do together?

Carla: We love going shopping, and we like to take vacations together. Last year we went to Florida for spring break and had a great time.
