

EDUFRIENZ

GRATITUDE

COMICS WRITING LEVEL 1

LIVEWORKSHEETS

Introduction

This edition is part of Edufrienz's library of learning and activities. We have created this exclusive content to support your child's learning and development.

This Comic writing edition will help your child to write creatively. It is a fun and creative way for children to express themselves and their thoughts by writing their own comics. Each page is filled with vibrant scenes and characters, just waiting for their words to bring them to life.

Number of pages: 8

Recommended age: 5-6 years old

Activity Outcome:

Improve your child's ability to write stories, story descriptions, dialogue and more.

Instruction

Hello, young writer! Get ready for an exciting journey into the world of comics. Today, you are not just a reader, you are the writer of your very own comic strip.

- Read the description on each page to help you make your story.
- Be the voice: Write what the characters are thinking or saying. Use the thought bubbles to give them a voice.

Character talking

Character thinking

The friends are talking about Mother's Day during their break. They want to show their gratitude to their mothers and their plans for the day.

You have decided to spend time with your mother.

What have you decided to do to show your gratitude to your mother?

Write each friend's idea of what they would like to do or give their mom for Mother's Day.

What do you think they are talking about?

How did the old woman show her gratitude?

The friends thought of a new idea.
What are they planning to do or give on Mother's Day?

Write what will you do here?
