

I may not love you

But long as there are above you

You never to doubt it

I'll make you so about it

God only what I'd be without you

If you ever leave me

Well, life would still go on, ... me

The world could show to me

So what good would living do me?