I took on my first job on (1) ... summer holidays. At (2) ... first, my parents were against (3) ... idea of me working. I didn't really want to spend my summer working either, but it looked like (4) ... good opportunity to get some experience and a bit of money. I was (5) ... sales assistant in a department store, and while it wasn't (6) ... particularly challenging work, (7) ... store could be rather busy at weekends. I had a supervisor whom I really liked. He regularly kept (8) ... eye on me to make sure I was doing (9) ... right job. To my surprise, I found (10) ... whole experience (11) ... great fun. I made (12) ... friends with one of the assistants and we often had (13) ... good laugh together as she told really funny jokes. That was (14) ... few years ago, and now I am (15) ... Managing Director of that same store.
