A Picnic by the Lake

It is a sunny Sunday, so my family and Mark's family are having a picnic by the lake. I am Lucy, and I am nine years old. There is a big blanket on the grass. On the blanket, there are some sandwiches, two bottles of juice, and a bowl of cherries, but there isn't any cake. My mother says, "Don't forget the water!"

Mark and his brothers are playing near the lake. Mark is throwing a ball, and his brothers are riding their bikes. The red bike is Tom's, and the blue one is Ben's.

Mark's dog, Coco, wants to swim, so it is jumping into the water. Its fur is wet now!

My little sister doesn't like to get wet. She is wearing her yellow hat and sunglasses, and she is sitting under a tree with our grandparents. They are watching the ducks. I want to play with Mark's brothers, so I put on my sneakers. Mark says, "Let's play hide and seek!" "Sure!" I say. "That sounds like fun!"
