SECTION 2: Master the IPREC Formula (Drilling & Structure)

The IPREC Formula helps you structure a clear and well-organized essay:

- I - Introduction: Introduce the topic and give background context.
- P - Point: State your main point clearly.
- R - Reason: Explain why your point is true/important.
- E - Explanation & Example: Give extra details or specific examples.
- C - Closing: Summarize your main points and wrap up.

Task 2A: Identify the IPREC Elements

Read the sentences below. Label each sentence with I (Introduction), P (Point), R (Reason), E (Explanation/Example), or C (Closing).

1. [____] For example, playing badminton with my brother helps us stay active without worrying about the hot weather outside.
2. [____] Playing indoor sports is a wonderful way to keep fit and have fun with loved ones.
3. [____] In conclusion, badminton is my absolute favourite indoor sport because it keeps me healthy and strengthens my bond with my family.
4. [____] First and foremost, my favourite indoor sport is badminton, which I usually play every weekend.
5. [____] This is because playing indoors protects us from unpredictable weather like heavy rain or scorching heat.

Task 2B: Fill in the Formula Chart

Match each prompt question to its IPREC role:

Essay Prompt Question	IPREC Formula Component	What to Write
General Topic	I - Introduction	General sentence about indoor sports.
What it is & When you do it	P - Point (Body 1)	State the sport and when you play it.
