Learning English Online

More people are choosing to study English online. Online courses are usually cheaper than classes at a language Centre, and students can learn at any time of day. Many learners say that the biggest advantage is flexibility: they can study after work or even on the bus. However, studying alone is not always easy. Some students lose motivation because there is no teacher to remind them about homework. Others miss the chance to speak with real people. To solve this problem, many websites now offer video calls with native speakers. Experts suggest that the best method is to combine online lessons with regular speaking practice. Whatever method you choose, they agree that studying a little every day is better than studying for many hours once a week.
